	This panel will focus on digital technology, digital democracy, and (social) media platforms for civil society to protect democracy and pluralism.	This panel will explore civil society's strategic efforts in promoting and preparing for a more democratic, fair and inclusive 2024 election: what has been done, what challenges and what next.	This panel will build on recommendations and relations built by Civic-20 as an opportunity for CSOs to think and act not only locally but also globally and discuss how C20's commitment can work not only for the G20, but also in Indonesia.	This panel focuses on different types of experiences of multiple forms of marginalization and how inter-sectionality impacts our strategies and entry points to work on marginalization.	Maintaining a peaceful mind is crucial, especially for leaders facing pressure and unpredictability. Personal transformation is key for leaders to achieve a peaceful mind, making them more effective in any domain. Gain insights from diverse leaders in various fields.
